A CONSTITUTION OR FORM OF GOVERNMENT

FOR

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

The end of the institution, maintenance, and administration of government, is to secure the existence of the body politic, to protect it, and to furnish the individuals who compose it with the power of enjoying in safety and tranquillity their natural rights, and the blessings of life: and whenever these great objects are not obtained, the people have a right to alter the government, and to take measures necessary for their safety, prosperity, and happiness.

Objects of government.

The body politic is formed by a voluntary association of individuals: it is a social compact, by which the whole people covenants with each citizen, and each citizen with the whole people, that all shall be governed by certain laws for the common good. It is the duty of the people, therefore, in framing a constitution of government, to provide for an equitable mode of making laws, as well as for an impartial interpretation and a faithful execution of them; that every man may, at all times, find his security in them.

Body politic,
how formed.
Its nature.

We, therefore, the people of Massachusetts, acknowledging, with grateful hearts, the goodness of the great Legislator of the universe, in affording us, in the course of His providence, an opportunity, deliberately and peaceably, without fraud, violence, or surprise, of entering into an original, explicit, and solemn compact with each other; and of forming a new constitution of civil government, for ourselves and posterity; and devoutly imploring His direction in so interesting a design, do agree upon, ordain, and establish, the following Declaration of Rights, and Frame of Government, as the CONSTITUTION OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

PART THE FIRST.

A Declaration of the Rights of the Inhabitants of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Equality and natural rights of all men.

Article I. All men are born free and equal, and have certain natural, essential, and unalienable rights; among which may be reckoned the right of enjoying and defending their lives and liberties; that of acquiring, possessing, and protecting property; in fine, that of seeking and obtaining their safety and happiness.

Right and duty of public religious worship. Protection therein. 2 Cush. 104. 12 Allen, 129. See amendments, Arts. XLVI and XLVIII.

II. It is the right as well as the duty of all men in society, publicly, and at stated seasons, to worship the SUPREME BEING, the great Creator and Preserver of the universe. And no subject shall be hurt, molested, or restrained, in his person, liberty, or estate, for worshipping GOD in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience; or for his religious profession or sentiments; provided he doth not disturb the public peace, or obstruct others in their religious worship.

Amendments, Art. XI, substituted for this.

III. [As the happiness of a people, and the good order and preservation of civil government, essentially depend upon piety, religion, and morality; and as these cannot be generally diffused through a community but by the institution of the public worship of GOD, and of public instructions in piety, religion, and morality: Therefore, to promote their happiness, and to secure the good order and preservation of their government, the people of this commonwealth have a right to invest their legislature with power to authorize and require, and the legislature shall, from time to time, authorize and require, the several towns, parishes, precincts, and other bodies politic, or religious societies, to make suitable provision, at their own expense, for the institution of the public worship of GOD, and for the support and maintenance of public Protestant teachers of piety, religion, and morality, in all cases where such provision shall not be made voluntarily.

And the people of this commonwealth have also a right to, and do, invest their legislature with authority to enjoin upon all the subjects an attendance upon the instructions of the public teachers aforesaid, at stated times and seasons, if there be any on whose instructions they can conscientiously and conveniently attend.

Legislature to enjoin attendance thereon.

Provided, notwithstanding, that the several towns, parishes, precincts, and other bodies politic, or religious societies, shall, at all times, have the exclusive right of electing their public teachers, and of contracting with them for their support and maintenance.

Exclusive right of electing religious teachers secured.

And all moneys paid by the subject to the support of public worship, and of the public teachers aforesaid, shall, if he require it, be uniformly applied to the support of the public teacher or teachers of his own religious sect or denomination, provided there be any on whose instructions he attends; otherwise it may be paid towards the support of the teacher or teachers of the parish or precinct in which the said moneys are raised.

Option as to whom parochial taxes may be paid, unless, etc.

And every denomination of Christians, demeaning themselves peaceably, and as good subjects of the commonwealth, shall be equally under the protection of the law: and no subordination of any one sect or denomination to another shall ever be established by law.]

All denominations equally protected. 8 Met. 162. Subordination of one sect to another prohibited.

IV. The people of this commonwealth have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves, as a free, sovereign, and independent state; and do, and forever hereafter shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right, which is not, or may not hereafter be, by them expressly delegated to the United States of America, in Congress assembled.

Right of self government secured.

V. All power residing originally in the people, and being derived from them, the several magistrates and officers of government, vested with authority, whether legislative, executive, or judicial, are their substitutes and agents, and are at all times accountable to them.

Accountability of all officers, etc.

VI. No man, nor corporation, or association of men, have any other title to obtain advantages, or particular and exclusive privileges, distinct from those of the community, than what arises from the consideration of services rendered to the public; and this title being in nature neither hereditary, nor transmissible to children,

Services rendered to the public being the only title to peculiar privileges, hereditary offices are absurd and unnatural.

Objects of government; right of people to institute and change it.

Right of people to secure rotation in office.

All, having the qualifications prescribed, equally eligible to office. For the definition of "inhabitant," see Part the Second, Ch. 1, Sect. 2, Art. II.

Right of protection and duty of contribution correlative. Taxation founded on consent. 16 Mass. 326. 1 Pick. 418. 7 Pick. 344. 12 Pick. 184, 467. 16 Pick. 87. 23 Pick. 360. 7 Met. 388. 4 Gray, 474. 7 Gray, 363. 14 Gray, 154. 1 Allen, 150. 4 Allen, 474. Private property not to be taken for public uses without, etc. See amendments, Arts. XXXIX and XLVII.

or descendants, or relations by blood, the idea of a man born a magistrate, lawgiver, or judge, is absurd and unnatural.

VII. Government is instituted for the common good; for the protection, safety, prosperity, and happiness of the people; and not for the profit, honor, or private interest of any one man, family, or class of men: Therefore the people alone have an incontestable, unalienable, and infeasible right to institute government; and to reform, alter, or totally change the same, when their protection, safety, prosperity, and happiness require it.

VIII. In order to prevent those who are vested with authority from becoming oppressors, the people have a right, at such periods and in such manner as they shall establish by their frame of government, to cause their public officers to return to private life; and to fill up vacant places by certain and regular elections and appointments.

IX. All elections ought to be free; and all the inhabitants of this commonwealth, having such qualifications as they shall establish by their frame of government, have an equal right to elect officers, and to be elected, for public employments.

See amendments, Art. XLV. 122 Mass. 595, 596.

Freedom of elections, not to be the subject of an initiative or referendum petition. See amendments, Art. XLVIII, The initiative, II, sect. 2. For compulsory voting, see amendments, Art. LXI.

X. Each individual of the society has a right to be protected by it in the enjoyment of his life, liberty, and property, according to standing laws. He is obliged, consequently, to contribute his share to the expense of this protection; to give his personal service, or an equivalent, when necessary: but no part of the property of any individual can, with justice, be taken from him, or applied to public uses, without his own consent, or that of the representative body of the people. In fine, the people of this commonwealth are not controllable by any other laws than those to which their constitutional representative body have given their consent. And whenever the public exigencies require that the property of any individual should be appropriated to public uses, he shall receive a reasonable compensation therefor.

XI. Every subject of the commonwealth ought to find a certain remedy, by having recourse to the laws, for all injuries or wrongs which he may receive in his person, property, or character. He ought to obtain right and justice freely, and without being obliged to purchase it; completely, and without any denial; promptly, and without delay; conformably to the laws.

XII. No subject shall be held to answer for any crimes or offence, until the same is fully and plainly, substantially and formally, described to him; or be compelled to accuse, or furnish evidence against himself. And every subject shall have a right to produce all proofs that may be favorable to him; to meet the witnesses against him face to face, and to be fully heard in his defence by himself, or his counsel, at his election. And no subject shall be arrested, imprisoned, despoiled, or deprived of his property, immunities, or privileges, put out of the protection of the law, exiled, or deprived of his life, liberty, or estate, but by the judgment of his peers, or the law of the land.

Right of trial by jury, not to be the subject of an initiative or referendum petition. See amendments, Art. XLVIII, The initiative, II, sect. 2.

XIII. In criminal prosecutions, the verification of facts, in the vicinity where they happen, is one of the greatest securities of the life, liberty, and property of the citizen.

XIV. Every subject has a right to be secure from all unreasonable searches, and seizures, of his person, his houses, his papers, and all his possessions. All warrants, therefore, are contrary to this right, if the cause or foundation of them be not previously supported by oath or affirmation, and if the order in the warrant to a civil officer, to make search in suspected places, or to arrest one or more suspected persons, or to seize their property, be not accompanied with a special designation of the persons or objects of search, arrest, or seizure: and no warrant ought to be issued but in cases, and with the formalities prescribed by the laws.

Protection from unreasonable search, not to be the subject of an initiative or referendum petition. See amendments, Art. XLVIII, The initiative, II, sect. 2.

Right to keep

5 Gray, 121.

XVII. The people have a right to keep and to bear arms for the common defence. And as, in time of peace, armies are dangerous to liberty, they ought not to be maintained without the consent of the legislature; and the military power shall always be held in an exact subordination to the civil authority, and be governed by it.

Moral qualifications for office.

XVIII. A frequent recurrence to the fundamental principles of the constitution, and a constant adherence to those of piety, justice, moderation, temperance, industry, and frugality, are absolutely necessary to preserve the advantages of liberty, and to maintain a free government. The people ought, consequently, to have a particular attention to all those principles, in the choice of their officers and representatives: and they have a right to require of their lawgivers and magistrates an exact and constant observance of them, in the formation and execution of the laws necessary for the good administration of the commonwealth.

Moral obligations of lawgivers and magistrates.

Right of people to instruct representatives and petition legislature.

XIX. The people have a right, in an orderly and peaceable manner, to assemble to consult upon the common good; give instructions to their representatives, and to request of the legislative body, by the way of addresses, petitions, or remonstrances, redress of the wrongs done them, and of the grievances they suffer.

Right of peaceable assembly, not to be the subject of an initiative or referendum petition. See amendments, Art. XLVIII, The initiative, II, sect. 2.

Power to suspend the laws or their execution.

XX. The power of suspending the laws, or the execution of the laws, ought never to be exercised but by the legislature, or by authority derived from it, to be exercised in such particular cases only as the legislature shall expressly provide for.

Modified by the popular initiative and referendum. See amendments, Art. XLVIII, I, Definition.

XXI. The freedom of deliberation, speech, and debate, in either house of the legislature, is so essential to the rights of the people, that it cannot be the foundation of any accusation or prosecution, action or complaint, in any other court or place whatsoever.

Freedom of debate, etc., and reason thereof.

Freedom of speech, not to be the subject of an initiative or referendum petition. See amendments, Art. XLVIII, The initiative, II, sect. 2.

No soldier to be quartered in any house, unless, etc.

XXVIII. No person can in any case be subject to law-martial, or to any penalties or pains, by virtue of that law, except those employed in the army or navy, and except the militia in actual service, but by authority of the legislature.

XXIX. It is essential to the preservation of the rights of every individual, his life, liberty, property, and character, that there be an impartial interpretation of the laws, and administration of justice. It is the right of every citizen to be tried by judges as free, impartial, and independent as the lot of humanity will admit. It is, therefore, not only the best policy, but for the security of the rights of the people, and of every citizen, that the judges of the supreme judicial court should hold their offices as long as they behave themselves well; and that they should have honorable salaries ascertained and established by standing laws.

Tenure of their office, not to be the subject of an initiative or referendum petition. See amendments, Art. XLVIII, The initiative, II, sect. 2, and The referendum, III, sect. 2.

XXX. In the government of this commonwealth, the legislative department shall never exercise the executive and judicial powers, or either of them: the executive shall never exercise the legislative and judicial powers, or either of them: the judicial shall never exercise the legislative and executive powers, or either of them: to the end it may be a government of laws and not of men.

For change of time, etc., see amendments, Art. X.

II. No bill or resolve of the senate or house of representatives shall become a law, and have force as such, until it shall have been laid before the governor for his revisal; and if he, upon such revision, approve thereof, he shall signify his approbation by signing the same. But if he have any objection to the passing of such bill or resolve, he shall return the same, together with his objections thereto, in writing, to the senate or house of representatives, in whichsoever the same shall have originated; who shall enter the objections sent down by the governor, at large, on their records, and proceed to reconsider the said bill or resolve. But if after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the said senate or house of representatives, shall, notwithstanding the said objections, agree to pass the same, it shall, together with the objections, be sent to the other branch of the legislature, where it shall also be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of the members present, shall have the force of a law: but in all such cases, the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays; and the names of the persons voting for, or against, the said bill or resolve, shall be entered upon the public records of the commonwealth.

3 Mass. 567.

III. The general court shall forever have full power and authority to erect and constitute judicatories and courts of record, or other courts, to be held in the name of the commonwealth, for the hearing, trying, and determining of all manner of crimes, offences, pleas, processes, complaints, actions, matters, causes, and things, whatsoever, arising or happening within the commonwealth, or between or concerning persons inhabiting, or residing, or brought within the same: whether the same be criminal or civil, or whether the said crimes be capital or not capital, and

And while the public charges of government, or any part thereof, shall be assessed on polls and estates, in the manner that has hitherto been practised, in order that such assessments may be made with equality, there shall be a valuation of estates within the commonwealth, taken anew once in every ten years at least, and as much oftener as the general court shall order.

Article I. [There shall be annually elected, by the freeholders and other inhabitants of this commonwealth, qualified as in this constitution is provided, forty persons to be councillors and senators for the year ensuing their election; to be chosen by the inhabitants of the districts into which the commonwealth may, from time to time, be divided by the general court for that purpose: and the general court, in assigning the numbers to be elected by the respective districts, shall govern themselves by the proportion of the public taxes paid by the said districts; and timely make known to the inhabitants of the commonwealth the limits of each district, and the number of councillors and senators to be chosen therein; provided, that the number of such districts shall never be less than thirteen; and that no district be so large as to entitle the same to choose more than six senators.]

Senate, number of, and by whom elected. Superseded by amendments, Art. XIII, which was also superseded by amendments, Art. XXII.

For provision as to councillors, see amendments, Art. XVI.

And the several counties in this commonwealth shall, until the general court shall determine it necessary to alter the said districts, be districts for the choice of councillors and senators, (except that the counties of Dukes County and Nantucket shall form one district for that purpose) and shall elect the following number for councillors and senators, viz.:—Suffolk, six; Essex, six; Middlesex, five; Hampshire, four; Plymouth, three; Barnstable, one; Bristol, three; York, two; Dukes County and Nantucket, one; Worcester, five; Cumberland, one; Lincoln, one; Berkshire, two.]

THE UNIVERSITY AT CAMBRIDGE, AND ENCOURAGEMENT OF LITERATURE, ETC.

SECTION I.

The University.

Harvard College.

Article I. Whereas our wise and pious ancestors, so early as the year one thousand six hundred and thirty-six, laid the foundation of Harvard College, in which university many persons of great eminence have, by the blessing of God, been initiated in those arts and sciences which qualified them for public employments, both in church and state; and whereas the encouragement of arts and sciences, and all good literature, tends to the honor of God, the advantage of the Christian religion, and the great benefit of this and the other United States of America, — it is declared, that the PRESIDENT AND FELLOWS OF HARVARD COLLEGE, in their corporate capacity, and their successors in that capacity, their officers and servants, shall have, hold, use, exercise, and enjoy, all the powers, authorities, rights, liberties, privileges, immunities, and franchises, which they now have, or are entitled to have, hold, use, exercise, and enjoy; and the same are hereby ratified and confirmed unto them, the said president and fellows of Harvard College, and to their successors, and to their officers and servants, respectively, forever.

Powers, privileges, etc., of the president and fellows, confirmed.

And whereas there have been at sundry times, by divers persons, gifts, grants, devises of houses, lands, tenements, goods, chattels, legacies, and conveyances, heretofore made, either to Harvard College in Cambridge, in New England, or to the president and fellows of Harvard College, or to the said college by some other description, under several charters, successively; it is declared, that all the said gifts, grants, devises, legacies, and conveyances, are hereby forever confirmed unto the president and fellows of Harvard College, and to their successors in the capacity

Any city or town having ratable polls enough to elect one or more representatives, with any number of polls beyond the necessary number, may be represented, as to that surplus number, by multiplying such surplus number by ten and dividing the product by four hundred and fifty; and such city or town may elect one additional representative as many years, within the ten years, as four hundred and fifty is contained in the product aforesaid.

Towns may unite into representative districts.

Any two or more of the several towns and districts may, by consent of a majority of the legal voters present at a legal meeting, in each of said towns and districts, respectively, called for that purpose, and held previous to the first day of July, in the year in which the decennial census of polls shall be taken, form themselves into a representative district to continue until the next decennial census of polls, for the election of a representative, or representatives; and such district shall have all the rights, in regard to representation, which would belong to a town containing the same number of ratable polls.

The governor and council to determine the number of representatives to which each town is entitled.

The governor and council shall ascertain and determine, within the months of July and August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, according to the foregoing principles, the number of representatives, which each city, town, and representative district is entitled to elect, and the number of years, within the period of ten years then next ensuing, that each city, town, and representative district may elect an additional representative; and where any town has not a sufficient number of polls to elect a representative each year, then, how many years within the ten years, such town may elect a representative; and the same shall be done once in ten years, thereafter, by the governor and council, and the number of ratable polls in each decennial census of polls, shall determine the number of representatives, which each city, town and representative district may elect as aforesaid; and when the number of representatives to be elected by each city, town, or representative district is ascertained and determined as aforesaid, the governor shall cause the same to be published forthwith for the information of the people, and that number shall remain fixed and unalterable for the period of ten years.

House of representatives, how apportioned. Provisions as to representatives superseded by amendments, Art. XXI.

Every town containing less than twelve hundred inhabitants shall be entitled to elect a representative as many times within ten years as the number one hundred and sixty is contained in the number of the inhabitants of said town. In his inaugural address to the General Court of 1916, Governor McCall recommended that the question of revising the Constitution, through a Constitutional Convention, be submitted to the people; and the General Court passed a law (chapter 98 of the General Acts of 1916) to ascertain and carry out the will of the people relative thereto, the question to be submitted being "Shall there be a convention to revise, alter or amend the constitution of the Commonwealth?" The people voted on this question at the annual election, held on November 7, casting 217,293 votes in the affirmative and 120,979 votes in the negative; and accordingly the Governor on Dec. 19, 1916, made proclamation to that effect, and, by virtue of authority contained in the act, called upon the people to elect delegates at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday in May, 1917. The election was on May 1. In accordance with the provisions of the act, the delegates met at the State House on June 6, 1917, and organized by choosing John L. Bates, president, and James W. Kimball, secretary. After considering and acting adversely on numerous measures that had been brought before it, and after providing for submitting to the people the forty-fifth, forty-sixth and forty-seventh Articles, at the state election of 1917, and the Article relative to the establishment of the popular initiative and referendum and the legislative initiative of specific amendments of the Constitution (Article forty-eight) at the state election of 1918, the Convention adjourned on November 28 "until called by the President or Secretary to meet not later than within ten days after the prorogation of the General Court of 1918."

Chap.355

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

PART I. DOMESTIC CORPORATION TAX.

SECTION 1. When used in Part I of this act:—

(1) The term “domestic business corporation” shall mean every corporation organized under or subject to the provisions of chapter four hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and three and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto.

Domestic Corporation Tax. “Domestic business corporation,” term defined.

(2) The term “taxable year” shall mean the fiscal year of the corporation.

corporation on the first day of April when the return called for by section four of this act is due, less the value of (a) the works, structures, real estate, machinery, poles, underground conduits, wires and pipes owned by it within the commonwealth subject to local taxation, excepting such part of such real estate as represents the interest of a mortgagee; (b) securities, other than shares in national banks and voluntary associations, trusts and partnerships, the income of which, if any, if received by a natural person resident in this commonwealth would not be liable to taxation; (c) its real estate, machinery, merchandise and other tangible property situated in another state or country, except such part thereof as represents the interest of a mortgagee; and (d) if any portion of its cash accounts and bills receivable, excluding notes, is attributable to an office outside the commonwealth, the same proportion of its cash and accounts and bills receivable, excluding notes, which its real estate, machinery and merchandise situated in another state or country bear to its total real estate, machinery and merchandise, to the extent that such proportion fairly represents, in the judgment of the tax commissioner, the amount which is properly allocable to such other state or country.

Deductions in determining corporate excess, etc.

In determining the corporate excess there shall not be deducted the value of shares in national banks and in voluntary associations, trusts and partnerships, nor of other securities the income of which, if owned by a natural person resident in this commonwealth, would be liable to taxation, nor shall there be deducted the value of any shares of stock of the corporation itself owned directly or indirectly by it or for its benefit; and the tax commissioner in determining for the purposes of taxation the value of the corporate franchise of any such corporation shall not take into consideration any debts of the corporation unless he is satisfied that no part of such debts was incurred for the purpose of reducing the amount of taxes to be paid by it, and, in the case of a corporation which is a subsidiary of a foreign corporation or closely affiliated therewith by stock ownership, that such debts represent only the fair value of the property given therefor.

Annual excise tax to be paid by domestic business corporations, amount, etc.

SECTION 2. Except as is otherwise provided in this section, every domestic business corporation shall be subject to pay annually, with respect to the carrying on or doing of business by it, an excise tax equal to the sum of the following:—

(1) An amount equal to five dollars per thousand upon the value of its corporate excess.

(2) An amount equal to two and one half per cent of that part of its net income as hereinafter defined, which is derived from business carried on within this commonwealth.

If a domestic business corporation which is a subsidiary of a foreign corporation or closely affiliated therewith by stock ownership, is so managed that its books of account do not show its true earnings, it shall pay as a minimum tax under this act an amount equal to twenty dollars per thousand on its corporate excess, unless it shall file within the first ten days of April a statement, as of April first, of its net income which shows to the satisfaction of the tax commissioner its true earnings for its last prior fiscal year, eliminating therefrom all payments to such other corporation or its officers in excess of the fair value of the property or services given therefor.

Minimum tax of certain corporations which are subsidiaries of foreign corporations.

If two or more domestic business corporations participated in the filing of a consolidated return of income to the federal government, the tax under paragraph (2) above may, at their option, be assessed upon their combined net income, which tax shall be assessed to both corporations and collected from either corporation. In the case of corporations thus affiliated, and in the further case of a single domestic business corporation which files with one or more foreign corporations a consolidated return of net income to the federal government, such domestic business corporation or corporations shall file with the tax commissioner, as a part of their return required by this act, a statement of net income in such form as he may prescribe, showing the gross income and deductions in accordance with the law and regulations governing the usual federal returns of corporations not thus affiliated, and the net income thus shown shall, in such cases, be the net income taxable under this act after making the deductions therefrom as provided in section three.

Assessment of two or more corporations filing consolidated returns of income to federal government, etc.

SECTION 3. Except as provided in the last paragraph of section two, the term "net income" shall mean the net income for the taxable year as required to be reported by the corporation in its last prior return to the federal government as defined in the federal revenue act of nineteen hundred and eighteen, deducting therefrom all interest received upon bonds, notes and certificates of indebtedness of the United States which was included in such return, and dividends received from corporations organized under the laws

SECTION 4. Every such corporation shall, within the first ten days of April, make a return as of April first, sworn to by the treasurer or assistant treasurer, or in their absence or incapacity by any other principal officer, in such form as the tax commissioner may prescribe, giving (a) a copy of such parts of its last federal return due prior thereto, as he may designate; (b) such data as he may require to determine the proportion of net income derived from business carried on within this commonwealth; (c) such information as he may require for the determination of the corporate excess. Whenever the time for filing its federal return has been extended, the tax commissioner may extend the time for filing such return.

SECTION 5. If the assessment made by the federal government, is based upon a net income greater or less than the net income returned by said corporation, or if an additional assessment is at any time made on the ground that the net income was incorrectly returned in the first instance, or if, after the tax as assessed is paid to the federal government, any part of such tax is refunded, the corporation, within ten days after the receipt of such notice of the said fact, shall make return under oath to the tax commissioner of the amount by which the net income originally returned differs from the net income on which the tax was computed by the federal government upon the latest determination by it of the proper tax, and of the facts giving rise to the difference. If upon such facts an additional tax is due the commonwealth, the tax commissioner shall assess the additional tax, and the corporation shall, within thirty days after the receipt of notice from the tax commissioner of the amount thereof, pay such additional tax. If, upon the said facts, a less tax is due the commonwealth than that paid by the corporation, the treasurer and receiver general shall, upon certification of the tax commissioner, repay within thirty days such difference without any further statutory appropriation thereafter.

SECTION 6. In case a domestic corporation carries on business outside this commonwealth, the tax commissioner shall determine in the following manner the proportion of the net income received from business carried on within this commonwealth: interest and dividends which would be taxable under section two of chapter two hundred and sixty-nine of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and sixteen, and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto, if received by an inhabitant of this commonwealth, shall, in all cases be determined to be income taxable under this act. Gains realized from the sale of capital assets shall, if such assets consisted of intangible property, be determined to be income taxable under this act; but if such assets consisted of real estate or tangible personal property the gains realized from the sale thereof shall be apportioned to the states in which such property is situated. Dividends received on the stock of corporations not organized in the United States and not subject to federal income tax shall be determined not to be income from business carried on within this commonwealth.

The remainder of the net income as defined in section three of this act shall be divided into three parts.

Of one third, such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within this commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying the said one third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within this commonwealth, and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated. Of another one third, such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within this commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying the said one third by a fraction whose numerator is the expense paid by the corporation for wages, salaries, commissions or other compensation to its employees, and assignable to this commonwealth as hereinafter provided, and whose denominator is the total expense paid by the corporation for wages, salaries, commissions or other compensation to all its employees. Of the remaining one third, such portion shall be attributable to business carried on within this commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying the said one third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this commonwealth as hereinafter provided, and whose denominator is the amount of the corporation's gross receipts from all its business. In a case where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable, the said remainder of net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only, each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules. case where only one of the three rules is applicable, the proportion of the net income received from business carried on within this commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule. The value of the corporation's tangible property for the purposes of this section shall be the average value of such property during the year for which the income is returned. The amount assignable to this commonwealth of expense paid by the corporation for wages, salaries, commissions or other compensation to its employees shall be such expense for the year for which the income is returned as represents the compensation of employees not chiefly situated at, connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business which are owned or rented by the corporation outside of the commonwealth. The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this commonwealth shall be the amount for the year for which the income is returned of its gross receipts from (a) sales, except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at, connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business which are owned or rented by the corporation outside of the commonwealth, and sales otherwise determined by the tax commissioner to be attributable to the business conducted on such premises; (b) rentals or royalties from property situated, or from the use of patents, within the commonwealth: provided, however, that upon application by a corporation which owns or controls substantially all the capital stock of another corporation, or by the corporation so owned or controlled, the tax commissioner may impose the tax provided for by this act upon the income of the two corporations jointly in the same manner as though they were a single corporation, or may, in such other manner as he shall determine, equitably adjust the tax of the applying corporation.

If a corporation maintains an office, warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this act, the tax commissioner shall, in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this commonwealth, include therein the gross receipts from sales attributed by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state.

In the case of consolidated returns of net income, the tax commissioner shall allocate such income, so far as practicable, in accordance with the above rules.

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all of the tangible property or the expense of a corporation for wages, salaries, commissions or other compensation, or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated, incurred, or received without the commonwealth. From the net income allocated to Massachusetts as above, each domestic business corporation may deduct the same proportion thereof which the fair cash value of machinery owned by it and used in manufacturing in this commonwealth bears to its total assets employed in the commonwealth, and the amount remaining shall be its net income subject to tax under section two, paragraph (2). All other domestic business corporations shall likewise be entitled to the same deduction.

Deductions from net income allocated to Massachusetts, etc.

SECTION 7. The tax commissioner shall determine from the returns required by this act, and from any other available information, the net income and corporate excess of every domestic business corporation, and shall assess thereon the tax herein provided for. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the portion of said tax which is based upon the value of the corporate excess shall be assessed and collected in the same manner and with the same powers as provided in Part III of chapter four hundred and ninety of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, and the amendments thereof and additions thereto, for the taxation of corporate franchises, and shall be subject to the other administrative provisions thereof. He shall not determine the income of any such corporation, which has filed a return within the time prescribed by law, to be in excess of the income shown by such return without notifying the corporation and giving it an opportunity to explain the apparent incorrectness of the return. For the purpose of verifying any such return, the tax commissioner may, within two years after the first day of September of the year in which such return was due, examine personally or by deputy or agent, the books and papers of the corporation, which shall be open to such officer for verification. If the tax commissioner discovers from the verification of a return filed under this act, or otherwise, that the full amount of any tax due under this act has not been assessed, he may, at any time within two years after the first day of September of the year in which such assessment should have been made, assess the same, first giving notice to the corporation to be assessed of his intention; and a representative of the corporation shall thereupon have an opportunity, within ten days after such notification, to confer with the tax commissioner as to the proposed assessment. After the expiration of ten days from the notification the tax commissioner shall assess the amount of the tax remaining due to the commonwealth, and shall give notice to the corporation so assessed. Any tax so assessed shall be payable fourteen days after the date of the notice, and the provisions of this act concerning the abatement and collection of taxes shall be applicable to a tax so assessed.

If no return, or an incorrect or insufficient return, has been filed, and the corporation so in default refuses or neglects after notice to file a proper return, or if a fraudulent return has been filed, the tax commissioner shall determine the income of the corporation according to his best information and belief, and shall assess the same at double the amount so determined, which additional tax shall be in addition to the other penalties provided for by this act.

The tax commissioner shall also make from time to time such reasonable rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, as he may deem necessary for carrying out its provisions.

SECTION 8. Except as is provided by section seven of this act, the tax commissioner shall annually, as soon as may be after the first Monday of August, give notice to the treasurer of each domestic business corporation of the amount of any tax levied upon it, under this act; and shall give notice to the treasurer of the date upon which such amount is payable and of the time within which the corporation may apply for a correction of the tax. Failure to receive the said notice shall not affect the validity of the tax.

SECTION 9. If a domestic business corporation fails to file when due the returns required by sections four and five of this act, there shall be added to and become a part of the tax as an additional tax the sum of five dollars for every day during which the corporation is in default: provided, however, that the tax commissioner may in his discretion abate any such additional tax in whole or in part.

If any return required by sections four and five contains a false statement which is known, or by the exercise of reasonable care might have been known, to the officer making it, to be false, such officer and the corporation shall be liable for the amount of tax thereby lost to the commonwealth, and in addition to a penalty of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars.

SECTION 10. Applications for the abatement or correction of any tax assessed under Part I of this act may be made within ten days after the date upon which the notice of assessment is sent, and from the decision of the tax commissioner thereon any corporation may appeal in the manner provided by section sixty-eight of Part III of chapter four hundred and ninety of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto.

SECTION 13. One sixth of every tax paid by any domestic business corporation under this act shall be retained by the commonwealth. The remainder shall be distributed, credited and paid to the city or town of the commonwealth where the business of the corporation is carried on. If the corporation maintains an office, store or factory in more than one city or town of the commonwealth, the said remainder shall be distributed, credited and paid to such cities or towns in proportion to the value of the tangible property of the corporation in each of such cities or towns on the first day of April, or on such other day as the tax commissioner shall determine, which value shall be determined in such manner

The term "corporate excess" within the commonwealth shall mean such proportion of the value of the issued capital stock as the assets, both real and personal, employed in any business within the commonwealth on the first day of April following the close of the taxable year, bear to the total of such assets of the corporation on said date, less the following deductions: — (a) the value of the works, structures, real estate, machinery, poles, underground conduits, wires and pipes owned by it within the commonwealth subject to local taxation, except such part of the said real estate as represents the interest of a mortgagee; (b) the value of securities held in Massachusetts, other than shares in national banks, voluntary associations, trusts and partnerships, the income of which, if any, if received by a natural person resident in this commonwealth, would not be liable to taxation. In the case of corporations thus affiliated, and in the further case of a single foreign corporation which files with one or more domestic business corporations a consolidated return of net income to the federal government, such foreign corporation or corporations shall file with the tax commissioner, as a part of their return required by this act, a statement of the net income in such form as he may prescribe, showing the gross income and deductions in accordance with the law and regulations governing the usual federal returns of corporations not thus affiliated, and the net income thus shown shall, in such cases, be the net income taxable under this act, after making the deductions therefrom as provided in section sixteen.

The remainder shall be divided into three equal parts:—

Of one third, such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within this commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying the said one third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within the commonwealth, and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated. Of the remaining one third, such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying the said one third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this commonwealth, as hereinafter provided, and whose denominator is the amount of the corporation's gross receipts from all its business. The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this commonwealth shall be the amount, for the year for which the income is returned, of its gross receipts from (a) sales, except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at, connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business which are owned or rented by the corporation outside of the commonwealth, and sales otherwise determined by the tax commissioner to be attributed to the business conducted on such premises; (b) rentals or royalties from property situated, or from the use of patents, within the commonwealth: provided, however, that upon application by a corporation which owns or controls substantially all the capital stock of another corporation, or by the corporation so owned or controlled, the tax commissioner may impose the tax provided for by this act upon the income of the two corporations jointly in the same manner as though they were a single corporation, or may, in such other manner as he shall determine, equitably adjust the tax of the applying corporation.

In the case of consolidated returns of net income, the tax commissioner shall allocate such income, so far as is practicable in accordance with the above rules.

NUMBER OF ACTS AND RESOLVES APPROVED AND LIST OF ACTS VETOED AND DECLARED EMERGENCY LAWS BY THE GOVERNOR UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE CONSTITUTION.

The general court of 1919, during its annual session, passed 364 General Acts, 242 Special Acts and 70 Resolves which received executive approval.

Five (5) General Acts entitled, respectively, "An Act relative to the use of voting machines", "An Act to establish the salary of the chief engineer at the state house", "An Act relative to appointments and promotions in the police forces of cities and towns", "An Act to fix the compensation of pages in the employ of the sergeant-at-arms", and "An Act relative to attendance in court by attorneys who are members of the general court", and three (3) Special Acts entitled, respectively, "An Act authorizing the city of Boston to raise money for the improvement of the East Boston ferry service", "An Act to provide for the widening of L street in the South Boston district of the city of Boston", and "An Act to provide for the improvement of the highway between the towns of Belchertown and Amherst", were passed and laid before the governor for his approval; were returned by him with his objections thereto, to the branch in which they respectively originated; were reconsidered, and the vote being taken on their passage, the objections of the governor thereto notwithstanding, they were rejected, and said acts thereby became void.

One (1) General Act entitled, "An Act to establish the compensation of the members of the general court" (Chapter 239), was passed and laid before the governor for his approval; was returned by him with his objections thereto, to the branch in which it originated; was reconsidered, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution, and the vote being taken on its passage, the objections of the governor thereto notwithstanding, it was passed, and said act has thereby the force of law.

One (1) General Act entitled, "An Act to suspend the civil service laws and regulations in favor of returning soldiers and sailors", was passed and laid before the governor for his approval; was returned by him with recommendations that amendments specified by him be made therein in accordance with Article LVI of the amendments to the constitution; after due consideration the recommendations were not adopted in the senate and the house of representatives refused to re-enact the bill and it thereby became void.

The general court of 1919 also passed a "Proposal for a legislative amendment to the constitution authorizing the general court to classify property for purposes of taxation", which proposal is filed in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth, for action by the general court of 1920.

APPENDIX

The following tables, from 1902 to 1913, inclusive, were prepared by FISHER AMES, Esq. The tables for the years 1914 and 1915 and the index to the General and Special Acts and Resolves of 1915 were prepared by NELSON B. VANDERHOOF, Esq. The tables for the years 1916 and 1917 and the index to the General and Special Acts and Resolves of 1916 and 1917 were prepared by FRANKLIN F. PHILLIPS, Jr., Esq. The tables for the years 1918 and 1919 and the index to the General and Special Acts and Resolves have been prepared by WILLIAM E. DORMAN, Esq., appointed to that duty under the provisions of section 1 of chapter 449 of the acts of 1914, as amended by section 1 of chapter 151 of the General Acts of 1918, directing the joint committee on rules of the general court to appoint a skilled person to prepare a table of changes in the general laws, and an index.

 Attention is called to the fact that Chapter 2 of the Acts of 1920 postpones the operation of Chapter 257 of the General Acts of 1918 and of Chapter 333 of the General Acts of 1919 to February 1, 1921. This affects the footnote throughout the Table of Changes.
